

RSES Company Competence List

The list indicates companies that employ security engineers or specialists whose competence has been assessed by a peer-reviewed assessment of a registrant's application that considers their experiential learning, Continuing Professional Development (CPD) and underpinning knowledge.

A Registrant at the Principal Grade has demonstrated a level of competence in their security engineering category which is broadly equivalent to Chartered Engineer level. A Registrant at the Ordinary Member Grade has demonstrated a level of competence in their security engineering category which is broadly equivalent to Incorporated Engineer level.

Details of the differing competence criteria between Principal and Ordinary Member Grade for each category can be found in the RSES Guidance.

Legend:

- Peer-reviewed primary categories at Principal Grade only
- ▣ Peer-reviewed primary categories at Ordinary Member Grade only

The table is based on data from members with details of their current employment and is correct at the time of publication. It is recommended that those wishing to engage companies to supply security consultancy services ask for confirmation of their employees' categories beforehand as the member's current employment may have changed. Third-parties wishing to verify the membership categories for an individual or employer, or an RSES member wishing to update membership data, should contact rses@ice.org.uk.

NPSA (formerly CPNI) Procurement Guidance can be found here.

In addition to the individuals listed below, 26 RSES members work for HM Government and have expertise across the following categories: GSA, A, B, D, E, F, G, H, J, K and L and M.
