

ICE Early Careers Network East Midlands & CIHT Hackathon:

Transport as an Enabler

Join the ICE Early Careers Network East Midlands and the Chartered Institution of Highways and Transportation (CIHT) for an interactive collaboration event focused on tackling transport challenges across the region.

Teams will analyse real-world challenges, generate strategic solutions, and prepare a short presentation outlining their proposals. Each group will have the opportunity to present their ideas to fellow participants and a judging panel, showcasing their approach to addressing transport needs within the region.

This event offers an excellent platform to network with peers, learn from professionals across the industry, and contribute to discussions around the future of transport in the East Midlands. To add a competitive element, a prize will be awarded to the team whose solution demonstrates the greatest innovation, impact, and feasibility.
